Beginning the tale of Wembly and the Woeful Water Weegles
LITTLE PEOPLE
We'll take him along but he doesn't look like he'd be much help!
He's really sleeping! He doesn't awaken when you smear him with the Air Ointment!
I'll wake him! In you go, chum!
What gives? How come I—
No questions please! Just keep on swimming!
Now we go up through that door!
Minutes later—
Here we are! What do we call you, pal?
I'm Wembly!
Hey there's no water here! How come I didn't drown back there?
This ointment we put on you makes an air bubble around you so you can breathe underwater!
Now it would be nice to know why I'm here!
You'll find out soon enough!

huckleberry HOLLOW
Are they mad at each other?
No. In fact, they are going steady!
You don't make sense!
Why don't they walk together?
Well you see—
